

“What the EEPD is”, and “Why” : Contents

- | | |
|---|---|
| I. Common Destructive Delusions | X. Potential for significant Workload Reduction |
| II. IT Achievements so far | XI. Using IT to reduce human errors |
| III. Helping create a Maternity Computer system | XII. Particular problems with Maternity IT |
| IV. Crucial Observations from that experience | XIII. But also the Importance of Maternity IT |
| V. Clinicians Decisions on data INPUT are Crucial | XIV. Even more so for the Future |
| VI. Generic Advice by Clinicians is essential | XV. A Paradigm Shift is therefore essential |
| VII. Chips and Paper (and Sticky Labels) | XVI. Using the Internet is essential |
| VIII. Computer Printout Quality Improvements | XVII. Conclusion |
| IX. Quality of all other Paperwork | XVIII. Twelve Point Summary |

Sections without blue hyperlinks are still in preparation

Back to the EEPD Introduction

Next Page